COAST CLIPPINGS.

Boston capitalists are negotiating for the Silver Canyon mines, Cherry Creek.

The supply of labor in Lincoln county is largely in excess of the demand.

The Mormon Pest is spreading in Grant and Lincoln Counties, New Mexico.

A fire in E. Poppleton's store, at Independence, Oregon, on Wednesday night, destroyed $15,000 worth of stock.

Reports from Bristol and Pioche are favorable. Rich discoveries are made daily and work in old mines is resumed.

One of the fabo banks at Prescott, Arizona, recently cleaned up $25,000 as the profits of 18 months' steady attention to business.

The Eureka Leader says: Hon. George W. Baker is confident a decision in the Richmond-Albion suit will be promulgated by April 1st.

The Woodruff Miner gives a thrilling story: The Bullion mail-carrier had a ride for life. He was lost in the mountains and chased by wolves.

It is said that the apricot crop was slightly damaged in Pleasant Valley by the late frosts, but lower down in the valley the prospect is very flattering.

Mines at Yankee Fork, Idaho, are looking first rate. The Custer mine, Charles Dickens, the Montana, the Badger and others are large producers.

Congressman Cassidy telegraphs J. M. Benton, of Carson, that mail service between Carson and Glenbrook has been restored, to go into effect on the 21st instant.

Frank McPherson, of Ellsworth, has discovered a new ledge in the Marble Falls canyon averaging $331 per ton. Character of ore—silver, chloride and sulphur.

In various parts of the interior reports of the depredations by wild geese continue to be heard. In many places whole fields of sprouting grain have been completely destroyed, rendering a rearing necessary.

The jury in the case of James Smith, Woodland, indicted for the murder of F. M. Patterson in November last, Saturday rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree, after a deliberation of twenty hours.

The roads between Pioche and Eureka are in a bad condition. Stages are 12 hours behind time. The snow blockades all wagon roads leading to Eureka, and unless the blockade is raised very soon the Eureka Con. furnaces will be obliged to shut down.

At Merced, in the case of E. J. Hamilton, ex-County Recorder, on trial for embezzlement of county funds, the jury Saturday disagreed and were discharged, and the other ten indictments against Mr. Hamilton were dismissed. This ends the prosecution of the ex-officials in Merced county.

At Los Angeles the Grand Jury made a report, Saturday, in the case of Thomas B. Hulz, who shot Fred Renter at Orange a few days ago. An indictment for murder was found. They also presented an accusation against C. C. Lamb, Republican County Recorder, for pocketing fees. The accounts of all other county officials were found correct.

The only baggage of Mr. Johns, when he arrived at a hotel in Blomark, Dakota, was a worn, cheap-looking little trunk. Being called away on important business he left it six weeks in the storeroom. Nobody thought it worth while to steal or open it. On his return he took out of it $12,000 worth of gold dust and nuggets. His plan of escaping the attention of thieves had proved successful.

Baker county, Oregon, is booming up as a prosperous mining district. Conner Creek has a twenty-stamp mill and a ledge from six to ten feet, claiming millions in sight. The Gold Ridge Mining Company runs on $100 ore. The Virtue Gold Mining Company is going to resume operations. Granite Creek Mining District has splendid prospects. Its numerous mines, and recently made rich developments, promise a prosperous and new era, and may bring back to the old Californians the days of '49 and to Oregon the days of '63.

S. J. Lambert, proprietor of the Abbott House, Parsons, Ark., says that St. Jacobs Oil is the best rheumatic specific. "It has cured myself and wife," said Mr. Lambert, "of rheumatism. We both had rheumatism—inflammatory rheumatism, too—and had it bad. I believed in the remedy which everyone was praising and used it. I have ever since been glad that I did so, for both my wife and myself realized speedy relief and cure. The St. Jacobs Oil is a splendid curative power; is short, it is just the best of liniments."

Some Important Statements of Well-Known People Wholly Verified.

In order that the public may fully realize the genuineness of the statements, as well as the power and value of the article of which they speak, we publish herewith the fac-simile signatures of parties whose sincerity is beyond question. The truth of these statements is absolute, nor can the facts they announce be ignored.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.
GENTLEMEN: Your remedy, the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has been used by both my wife and myself. Also, used it on general principles, as a system and liver regulator; I took the medicine for a long-standing liver trouble, which has been the source of much inconvenience, and which failed to yield to the doctor's remedies, or any other, until a year ago I used the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It has given me relief, and I feel the best I have ever had, and in recommending it to others as a safe remedy.

Wm. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.
H. H. Warner & Co.: For several years I have been a sufferer, and until your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was suggested I have not known what it is to be free from pain. My family physician attributed all my suffering to a diseased condition of my kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief, I tried your remedy, and as a well man to-day.

Thousands of equally strong endorsements—many of them in cases where hope was abandoned—have been voluntarily given, showing the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, in all diseases of the kidneys, liver and urinary organs. If no one who reads this has any physical trouble remember the great danger of delay. DEC 9

BELL TONGUE SYRUP,

AN ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY OF GREAT VALUE.

An Inestimable Benefit to Mankind.

UNCLE BEN JO'S GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA AOE.

UNCLE BEN JO was born in Boston in 1800. Being a botanist, he effected many wonderful cures with roots and herbs. He fled to South America to study botany, and while there accidentally made his great discovery. The natives of this country were quite familiar with it, and had always supposed it to be a poisonous herb, which they used for the sole purpose of keeping snakes away from their tents or houses. This they did by laying it in a circle about the same at a proper distance off. This herb, Uncle Ben Jo, as well as the natives, considered a very obnoxious and poisonous one, and was grown and used for a very distasteful and repulsive odor. The herb grows about two feet high, and about eight inches of the top part of its stalk is leafless, and this part tops over and hangs downward perpendicularly, and from the curved neck to its end it increases in size, and on the end of the same is a large, berry-looking ball, which stalk and ball, in this hanging position, looks precisely like the tongue of a bell. Hence Uncle Ben Jo named it the Bell Tongue Plant. In South America this herb is only found in the extreme interior of the country, and the natives there call it "Zarr Nero." It is a wonderful cure of kidney and liver diseases, also, dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism. We have a whole library full of testimonials. Sold by OSBORN & SHOEMAKER, Reno, Nev.

HAS WASHOE AN IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT?

It must be apparent to all that if the Republican party expects to elect its ticket in this county this Fall, all who naturally incline to its side must be drawn in together, and all factions united in one compact body. It is time to consider this matter more seriously than heretofore, and learn what obstacles stand in the way, and what is necessary to remove them. Probably the only elements that are not willing to be harmonized are the two factions that have warred together for years, known as the Boardman and Powning rings or factions. While the great majority of Republicans were working for the good of the party, these two found enough who would follow them to keep up a disturbance, and they have fought each other so hard that the party has suffered very much in consequence. There has been considerable trading with the enemy, and in order to maintain their personal positions, other parts of the ticket have been mercilessly slaughtered several times. But we will not discuss that matter now, but only ask these gentlemen and their friends if they cannot, for the sake of the success of the whole ticket, heal or bridge the breach, and unite in the struggle for a triumph of Republican over Democratic principles. We can imagine that there will be concessions necessary on both sides that will be disagreeable, and that personally each would better enjoy a gallant struggle, but there are other besides personal considerations binding upon men who engage in politics. They have both asked for votes from the Republican party; both have been raised from private life to honorable distinction by Republicans, and now they should show some consideration for the party. Either one by keeping up the war can injure the other, and at the same time sink the party. It seems to us there is a very easy way out for both, and we would recommend it. We would suggest as a compromise all around, that Boardman be Washoe's candidate for Attorney-General of the State, and Powning be a candidate for re-election to the State Senate. We throw out this hint now, before a hot campaign has inflamed the passions of the community, and antagonized them or their friends. Powning is young, and can well afford to serve another four years before asking for a higher office, and his friends are doing him an injury by urging his Congressional ambitions. He would encounter a great deal of opposition, and perhaps interfere with Washoe county, getting any State representation. In a contest for the Senate he would encounter no new elements of opposition, and if he is as strong a man as his friends claim, he will enjoy a healthy growth, and come out well fitted for a hard fight for a national office.

Boardman might well ask for a higher office than Attorney-General, but he that humbly himself shall be exalted, especially when he takes a low seat to keep peace in the family. He could almost certainly be elected Attorney-General, while for other offices he might find a fight that would injure both himself and the Republican party.

If our Long Valley subscribers will watch their chances they can take out their own and their neighbors' Gazettes when they are in town, or have passing wagons bring them and get along about as well as if the stage line treated them decently.

George Scoville has told a reporter that he believed it was the best thing for the country that Guitau should hang, for then there would be a revolution in public feeling and Guitau would do the country the great service of bringing out a revision of the laws to protect the insane.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

H. M. Newhall, the well-known auctioneer who died on the 13th inst. in San Francisco, was born in Saugus, Mass., May 23, 1825. He came to San Francisco in 1850, started the auction business, and conducted the same with great success until the time of his death. Mr. Newhall was one-third owner of the original San Jose and San Francisco railroad, but sold his interest subsequently to the Southern Pacific railroad company. He died very wealthy, and leaves a large quantity of land in Southern California, with a town after his name in Los Angeles county.

Senator Farley yesterday presented a memorial from the citizens of Yosemite Valley strongly protesting against the passage of Senator Miller's bill, which provides for extending the boundaries of Yosemite reservation. It was referred to the Committee on Public Lands, who have charge of the bill.

Congressional—House—The Chinese Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 16.
In the discussion of the Chinese bill in the House yesterday, Page, of California, said: Beyond the sentiments expressed by the advocates of Chinese immigration, this land was called "the land of the free and the home of the brave." It was the home of the down-trodden and oppressed; it should be an asylum and refuge for men who sought freedom from the yoke of bondage and persecution, but it was not the home of millions of slaves and serfs who came here to labor under contract. The protectionist demanded protection for American industry, he demanded protection for American labor. Was high protective tariff only for the purpose of taxing the people of the country that the rich might become richer and the poor poorer? Was it, as he supposed it was, for the purpose of protecting American labor? Not against cheap money, but cheap labor of Europe and Asia. The Democratic party in the House would support the bill, let the Republican party do so also, and thus redeem the pledge which it had made to the country. The House had yesterday swept away the barbaric system of polygamy, and he trusted that on Thursday, when he would call the previous question, this other relic of barbarism would be also swept away, and a law placed on the statute books that would protect labor in this country against the influx of Chinese immigration. In conclusion he contended that twenty years limit was not too extended.

Rosecrans—Let us have an experience of 10 years, and if the people consider it wise it can be extended.

Page—Will you vote for a bill at ten years?

Robinson—With some other small alterations I will.

Page—If you make the limitation 10 years the question will arise whether the limit shall be allowed to expire or whether it shall be extended. You will keep us in commotion the whole time. For God's sake give us 20 years' rest. We have been unsettled for 30 years; let us be settled for 20 years. Protect the port of San Francisco for 20 years, but if you like at the expiration of 10 years open the port of Boston to Chinese immigration.

Tyler (Vt.) stated that he would like to vote for some bill to restrict the importation of Chinese, but this bill was one which would prevent rather than restrict Chinese immigration. The bill, he said, was not within the treaty of 1881. He spoke in favor of the suspension of 5 or 10 years.

Rice (Mass.) spoke in opposition to the bill. Though he differed with the gentleman from California, Mr. Page, he did so with the greatest respect for the sincerity of the views which he had presented. The gentleman was a good Republican, and he had assumed to speak for the Democratic side of the House. He could not speak for the Republican side, and the reason was that, though he well represented one great wing of the party, yet that wing had been thrown into a panic.

Page—I did not attempt to speak for the Republican party, I speak from its platform and pledges made in its National Convention. Does the gentleman from Massachusetts stand by the platform adopted in the last National Republican Convention?

Rice—The gentleman from Massachusetts stands with his feet on every plank of the platform. He has always stood there and stands there today and is carrying out the suggestion that this left wing of the Republican party is in a panic, the gentleman has fallen back on the main body.

Rice—The west wing is the Pacific wing. Let me explain what the Republican platform really means, and show that I stand on it better than the gentleman does. It is the Democratic platform that says "no immigration." It is the Republican platform that recognizes the right of every nation to protect itself against pauperism, disease, and crime, and which says restrict and regulate immigration, so that it shall not endanger the country or any portion of it. He is worse than an infidel who does not protect his own family, and I will protect every section of these United States by proper guards against immigration, so as to keep out an undue influx of pauperism, disease and crime. That is what the Republican platform means—not to prohibit it, not to suspend it, but to regulate it, restrict it, control it, and make it, instead of a curse, instead of an injury—a blessing and a source of prosperity.

Rice then proceeded to argue in opposition to the bill, on the ground that it would work an injury to the commerce of the nation, and contended that labor did not require for its protection the adoption of such an extreme measure as the pending one. The labor which worked for low wages never crowded out the labor which worked for high, but only crowded it up, and the arguments which were presented in support of this bill, were the same as those which were heard one hundred years ago against the labor saving machinery. The bill was a violation of the Chinese treaty. In olden times punia fides was a synonym for national faithfulness. Under the color of treaty provision, modifying an old and the existing treaty, he feared that Congress would do much toward writing our name over that of ancient carthage, on the list of national perfidy. He objected to the bill because it was in conflict, if not with the words, at all events with the spirit of the treaty. At the beginning of our national existence we had written the legend that "all men are created equal," and that legend had been maintained. For one hundred years it had been out as the sign of peace, and omen of success, and he was unwilling, for one, to prove a recreant to a great destiny which lay before this country, as it entered the second century of its existence. He did not know but that he would consent to a short suspension of immigration, but against this bill, against its essence and against its spirit, he could only enter his earnest protest, and say that he knew that it must fail, because all the principles of justice and equity of those fixed stars whose serene light fall on Asia as well as on America, fought against this bill, and as sure as they were set in their places by the Hand of God who made them eternal, they would in the end prevail. Further consideration of the bill was then suspended.

The Iroquois Club Celebrates the One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of Andrew Jackson's Birthday.

CHICAGO, March 16.

The headquarters of the Iroquois Club in Haverly's building presented an animated appearance yesterday, the occasion being a reception in this city by the Club of a large number of distinguished Democrats from outside the city and a celebration of the day—the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Andrew Jackson's birthday—by means of a banquet at the Palmer House in the evening. The Iroquois Club is a newly organized body and comprises the best Democrats in the city, and this event is its first formal introduction to the attention of the outside world. The visitors were escorted about the city during the day, and late in the afternoon an informal reception was held, where political questions were avoided. At 8 o'clock last evening the Club and its guests, including a large number of local Democrats not members of the Club, assembled in the large dining-room of the Palmer House, which was appropriately decorated, and partook of a superb banquet. The speeches, while necessarily tinged with political matters, were in reality not politically significant. During the evening telegrams and letters were read from those invited but not present. Samuel J. Tilden sent a letter, only the following of which is telegraphed:

GRAYSTON, YORKERS.
New York, March 16.

Gentlemen:—I have received your letter conveying to me an invitation to attend the banquet of the Iroquois Club in Chicago on the 15th inst., the anniversary being the birth of Andrew Jackson, and to respond to the toast, "Democracy." It will not be practicable for me to be present with you on that occasion, but I cordially sympathize in the homage which you propose to pay to the memory of that great soldier and statesman. He represented the exultant nationality of sentiment which had always characterized the Democracy, and he manifested, in a great public crisis, his own inevitable determination to maintain the territorial integrity of our country and the indissoluble union of the States. He likewise truthfully represented the beneficent Jeffersonian philosophy which professes that nothing shall be done by the General Government which the local authorities are competent to do, and nothing by any Government powers which individuals can do for themselves. The great contests during his administration arose out of his efforts to resist usurpation by Congress, of powers in the derogation of the rights of localities, and of individuals as well as the Constitution. I well remember that in the debate in 1825, on the veto of a bill to re-charter the Bank of the United States, Mr. Webster, with all his eloquence, denounced and deplored the spectacle of the Executive, disclaiming the power of disarming the Government of which he was the head. The overgrowth of abuses and arrogation of authority which now confronts us, as they have distorted our political system, would have seemed, fifty years ago, when the debate occurred, as incredible to Webster as they would be to Jackson.

Henry Watterson delivered a speech, from which the following extracts are taken: Mr. Watterson deplored the enormous development of the news and newspaper business, and said the impetus of currency has been for twenty years upon the side of the Republican press. The Democratic press is no longer a power in the land. It is but a poor relation of the Government—sincere, hopeful, courageous, but, like the party, divided, irresolute and purposeless. But there is a remedy for both party and press. The press must realize there has been a deluge; it must look forward and cease to think of revenge and redress; it must be an organ of reform. To be specific, it must advocate a tariff for revenue only; obliteration of the navigation laws, divorcement of civil service from the party service; but the key to all its reforms is a tariff for revenue only. Mr. Watterson said further, that protection, like slavery, was doomed. It is monstrous, in every respect as slavery was. Slavery is gone, thank God, and there is an end of it, but its history is full of instruction and warning. This robbery and robbery of protection is a new slavery and the enemy of the press, but it is divided and occupies a false, untenable position. Place the old Democratic flag-ship in line of battle, clear the decks for action, pitch the foals into the sea, and send the sore-heads below, and with freedom's signals flying at the mast-head give them prayerfully, confidently to the God of storms, the battle and the breeze.

Imprisoned Americans in Ireland.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

The Department of State sent the Committee on Foreign Affairs, yesterday, copies of the telegraphic correspondence between the department and the Legation at London, respecting the imprisonment of Americans in Ireland under the Coercion Act. The cases of McSwenney and Hart are especially alluded to. In his negotiations regarding the former, Lowell failed to obtain from the British Government any information beyond that contained in the warrant of arrest, but was assured by Lord Granville that McSwenney's conduct brought him under the Coercion Act and he could not be released. Hart's reputation is bad and he will not promise to behave any better if set at liberty. Lowell does not believe either of them is more innocent than the majority of persons arrested. In answer to the Department's instructions to waive, for the present, all discussion of the justice of these arbitrary imprisonments, but to press for an early trial of the various American suspects, Lowell states that Her Majesty's Government have promised to give the matter immediate attention.

Probable Murder.

DENVER, March 16.

Adolph Gysen yesterday morning reported that his partner, Albert Walter, was accidentally killed at their mine near here Tuesday night. Investigation gives the affair the appearance of murder. The men, it is said, had quarreled the night before, and the indications are that the former committed the deed by striking a blow on the head.

Oscar Wilde Coming.

NEW YORK, March 16.

Charles E. Locke yesterday closed a contract with Oscar Wilde for a series of 20 lectures on the Pacific Coast between March 22nd and April 15th. Wilde is to receive $5,000 and have his expenses paid.

U. P. Conductors Out of Employment.

OMAHA, March 16.

The wholesale discharge of passenger and freight conductors on the Union Pacific Railroad commenced yesterday, and there is reason to believe before it ends 100 will be laid off.

The Effect of Congressman Page's Speech.

WASHINGTON, March 17.

In the House of Representatives, yesterday, the transaction of the regular morning business and passage of a bill for the relief of the sufferers by the floods in the Mississippi valley, prevented the resumption of debate on the Chinese bill until 2 o'clock, and consequently less progress was made towards the point of final action upon it than was anticipated. There was sufficient time, however, for the delivery of two forcible speeches. The first by Page, of California, and the other by Rice of Massachusetts, which substantially covered the main grounds of argument, pro and con, in regard to the question of restoring Chinese immigration and which this gave the key-notes for the most of the speeches that are to follow. Rice is a prominent member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs and man of culture and ability, but his speech was not very well delivered, except towards the close, when he warmed up to quite a height of high moral enthusiasm, and one which is not probable that his repetition of the argument, which Senator Hoar had previously advanced in stronger style, produced any great impression upon the judgment of his hearers, or convinced any one who was not already determined to vote against the bill of general principles. Page's extemporaneous speech, on the other hand, while making no pretension to rhetorical adornment, was infused throughout with unmistakable earnestness, and was capitally delivered, and by its plain, common sense presentation of the vital issues involved in the bill, made a manifestly effective impression upon a large class of members, who want practical information on the question, and who care comparatively little for polished orations on its sentimental aspect. The tenor of the questions put to Page yesterday by various Representatives, during the progress of his remarks, indicates that the bill will be attacked to a considerable extent on account of the Farley and Grower amendments added to it by the Senate; but his friends are confident that it can be passed and sent to the President for approval just as it came from the Senate.

Keifer stated this morning, in response to a complaint from Reagan of Texas, that the reason he had not yet recognized any Democrat to speak upon the bill was that he understood no one on that side of the House wished to make a speech against it, and he had therefore recognized Rice in order to alternate the speeches for and against it, as is the usual custom. Willis (Kentucky) will have the floor when the debate is resumed tomorrow, and it is hoped that the bill may be brought to a final vote before the afternoon adjournment.

Telegraphic Briefs.

—Garland and Jones yesterday spoke in favor of the former's bill appropriating $15,000,000 for the Mississippi river levees.

—The funeral of G. P. Armstrong, the citizen killed by the bayonet of a militiaman at the Omaha riot, took place yesterday. Fourteen hundred people were in the procession.

Mrs. Reuben Perkins, Harvey Perkins and G.
Carasco

Gentlemen: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Mrs. F. A. Kent and Saline Kent,
as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the County
of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county,
or twenty days if served out of said county,
but within said District, and in all other cases
fourty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you as defendant
in favor of plaintiff, in the sum of $1,000, for damages to certain real estate and improvements thereon, belonging to plaintiff, described in the complaint, and consisting of about 1/2 acre of land and a certain hotel and
store house, situated in Frantkown, Washoe
county, Nevada, caused by the breaking of a certain dam belonging to you defendant, and the flow of large quantities of water,
sand, gravel and other injurious matter, and
the deposit thereof upon said land and the destruction of said store house and injury to
day of February, A. D. 1881, plaintiff alleging that by your gross negligence and carelessness and lack of skill in the con- struction
and maintenance of said dam across Frank-
town creek, above the said land of plaintiff,
in said county, said dam was broken, and the
waters thereof overflowed and injured plain-tiff's said land and property to their damage aforesaid in the sum of $1,000; all of which will more fully appear from the Complaint
which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified that if you fail
to appear and answer said Complaint, the said
plaintiff will take judgment for the said
amount, besides interest and costs of suit.

In testimony whereof, I, R. S. Osburn, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 30th day of December, A. D.

In testimony whereof, I, R. S. Osburn, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of
said Court this 30th day of December, A. D.
1881.

(REAL) R. S. OSBURN,
Clerk of the District Court of the 2d Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

By W. L. Knox, Deputy. mari-17

SUMMONS.

In the District Court of the Second Judicial District, State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe.

THE STATE OF NEVADA SENDS TO
William Thompson, R. D. Alvey, J. H.
Dall, E. Twaddle, E. Owens, Joseph Frey,
Mrs. Reuben Perkins, Harvey Perkins and G.
Carasco

Gentlemen: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as
defendant by Mrs. F. A. Kent and Saline Kent,
as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the County
of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the
complaint therein within ten days after the
service on you of this summons (exclusive of
the day of service), if served in said county,
or twenty days if served out of said county,
but within said District, and in all other cases
fourty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of
said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you as defendant
in favor of plaintiff, in the sum of $1,000, for damages to certain real estate and improvements thereon, belonging to plaintiff, described in the complaint, and consisting of about 1/2 acre of land and a certain hotel and
store house, situated in Frantkown, Washoe
county, Nevada, caused by the breaking of a certain dam belonging to you defendant, and the flow of large quantities of water,
sand, gravel and other injurious matter, and
the deposit thereof upon said land and the destruction of said store house and injury to
day of February, A. D. 1881, plaintiff alleging that by your gross negligence and carelessness and lack of skill in the con- struction
and maintenance of said dam across Frank-
town creek, above the said land of plaintiff,
in said county, said dam was broken, and the
waters thereof overflowed and injured plain-
tiff's said land and property to their damage
aforesaid in the sum of $1,000; all of which will more fully appear from the Complaint
which is on file in the office of the Clerk of
said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified that if you fail
to appear and answer said Complaint, the said
plaintiff will take judgment for the said
amount, besides interest and costs of suit.
